POET

Boitshepo Kate Modiboa, originally from the North West and now based in Cape Town, is a passionate spoken word poet whose journey began in primary school.

From her first performance in grade 3 to writing and performing poems for cultural events such as Africa Day and Heritage Day in high school, her love for poetry has remained a constant.

At university, she has performed at UWC Open Mic sessions, with her work published in Open Mic: A Creative Writing Journal. She is also an active member of Everything Poetry, a campus poetry club that hosts monthly sessions.
